

The
signboard

...

Of course, there are many signboards at the auditorium.

A group of four children, two boys and two girls, are standing at the bottom of the frame, looking up towards a bright, cloudy sky. The sky is filled with soft, white and light blue clouds, and a bright light source, possibly the sun, is visible in the upper right. The children are dressed in casual clothing; one boy is wearing a red shirt and is pointing upwards with his right hand. The overall scene is bright and hopeful.

It's for us!

Yes.

Look!
There!

To be continued

FLY, give us your portraits and autographs.

Andrew

Ethan

Durian